

3-Person Mechanics Study Guide

Question	Reference
When a team presses, the center official should assist the trail with division-line violations.	5.3.2.G.4
All officials should move in toward the action when a held ball is ruled to help prevent dead-ball contact and rough play.	5.4.3.C
Officials may grant a time-out requested by A2 during A1's interrupted dribble.	5.4.4.A.3
The term "move to improve" is a technique that means to move your feet in order to improve your angle on a play.	2.17
Officials should arrive on the court together before the game at least 15 minutes before game time.	5.1.4
After a warning for delay is recorded in the scorebook, the official should inform the head coach of the warning.	5.5.3.A.2
The throw-in count should be audible and visible.	5.2.2.A.11
When a foul occurs and a goal has been scored, it need only be counted when reporting to the scorer.	5.4.2.B.7
The official who begins a five-second count may pass it to the other official if the players involved leave that official's primary coverage area.	5.3.2.B.2
In moving down the court, the lead official should never turn his or her back on the play.	5.3.5.A.2
On a try, the trail official should immediately retreat in order to be ahead of any play at the other end of the court.	5.3.4.A.3
Officials are only permitted to call fouls in their primary coverage areas.	5.4.2.A.2
Officials should only call violations in their primary coverage area.	5.4.1.A.2
The U1 is primarily responsible for the action of the nonjumpers.	5.2.1.C.2
The clock is signaled to start by the U1 as soon as the ball is tossed by the referee.	5.2.1.C.3
When a player with the ball starts a drive to the basket from an official's primary area, that official has the player and the ball all the way to the basket.	5.3.2.D.1
Players are not permitted along the lane for the free throws awarded for an intentional personal foul.	5.4.2.G.3
Officials shall count the players before putting the ball in play following a substitution.	5.4.4.D.3
An official's time-out can be called to protect a player.	5.4.7.A
Officials should switch hands when going directly from a closely-guarded holding count to a closely-guarded dribbling count.	5.3.2.B.3